FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

An Heirloom for the Bathroom!

Vanity Flair uses expert craftsmanship and detailing to create “new” antiques.

(Canton, GEORGIA. May 1, 2006). The bathroom may not be the first place that typically comes to mind as a showcase for fine antiques. Vanity Flair is changing that mindset. The renowned cabinetmaker creates custom heirloom-quality vanities that turn an ordinary bathroom into an elegant and beautiful retreat.

Designed with a strong European influence, the Jervais vanity is reminiscent of a fine antique piece of furniture with its elegant design, chamfered French legs and inset paneled drawers. Available in an array of beautiful finishes, the vanity is shown here in a rich Briar finish with Ash Burl inlay. The formal style and graceful lines are certain to make this piece a stand-out in even the most luxurious of bathrooms, while its expert craftsmanship gives it the look and feel of a treasured family heirloom.

The Jervais has more to offer than just its good looks. It is also exceedingly practical and as hard-working as any conventional bathroom vanity. Generous in size, the unit offers ample counter space and measures 48”W x 24”D x 36”H. Six drawers and a large center door provide much-appreciated hidden storage. Discerning customers will appreciate the little unseen touches that make all Vanity Flair products so special, like the soft-closing doors and drawers – no more banging around while getting ready for work in the mornings.

The Vanity Flair product line is available in fine showcases and through specialty plumbing dealers around the country. The Jervais model starts at $4,930 and as shown here for $6,995.

With the Vanity Flair Collection, the Furniture Guild answers the age-old questions about using furniture as vanities in the home. From creating the designs, through manufacturing, to the artistry and final finish application, the company has adopted the needed dimension to “make it work.” Vanity Flair cabinets are available in a wide variety of designs and styles, ranging from country waxed cherry pieces to formal European classical designs with special hand decoration motifs. Over 40 finishes are available, including traditional paints and stains, European crusty old paint, textured gesso, gold leaf and panels upholstered in fabric. The Furniture Guild/Vanity Flair also welcomes custom orders, as their high-quality vanities and hutches can be tailored to meet the size and style of any room.

For more information about the Jervais vanity or any of the fine products offered by Vanity Flair, call 1-888-479-4108 or visit www.vanityflair.net.
